PLEA OF GUILTY ENDS TRIAL OF THE M'NAMARAS

Notorious Dynamiting Case Is Brought to Sudden Close.

BROTHERS ACKNOWLEDGE GUILT; AWAIT SENTENCE

James B. McNamara Admits Responsibility for Death in Blowing up of Los Angeles Times, and John J. McNamara Concedes that He Was Accessory to Dynamiting of Llewellyn Iron Works.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.—James B. McNamara pleaded guilty to the murder of Charles Haggerty by dynamiting.

John J. McNamara entered a plea of guilty to the charge of dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron works.

Both men withdrew previous pleas of not guilty.

Judge Bordwell came into court at 2:17 p. m. with a rush. He advanced to the bench, slammed down a book and his notes and sat down with a frown on his face.

As is his custom he announced the case: "The people of the state of California vs. J. B. McNamara charged with murder. Defendant in court. Are you ready to proceed, gentlemen?"

Lecompte Davis, of counsel for the defense, arose from his chair as the judge finished his statement. He said:

"After long consideration, if it pleases your honor, and after consulting with counsel in this case, we have come to the conclusion that we shall enter a plea of guilty."

PROSECUTOR FREDERICKS.

There was a stir in the court room as Mr. Davis finished his brief statement.

Then the district attorney went to his seat, stepped over to near the judge's bench and asked the court for the indictment in the case.

"You have heretofore pleaded not guilty to this indictment, have you not Mr. J. B. McNamara?"

"I have," was the brief reply.

"How do you now wish to plead to this charge?" asked the district attorney.

James B. McNamara's face paled as never before under the stress of the situation.

"Guilty," he replied.

Directing his attention once more to the court the district attorney asked if he wished at this time to set the date for sentence. Judge Bordwell looked at the district attorney, at his calendar and then to McNamara, and said:

"I fix the date for pronouncing judgment at 10 o'clock Tuesday, Dec. 5."

J. J. McNamara then was summoned before the bench. District Attorney Fredericws read from indictment No. 6955. He said:

"John J. McNamara, you are charged with the crime of exploding or attempting to explode dynamite in or near the Llewellyn Iron works, etc. Do you wish to withdraw your plea of not guilty?"

McNamara, who stood with bowed head, responded in little more than a whisper, "I do."

"Do you plead guilty or not guilty to this indictment?" asked the district attorney.

"Guilty," was the low response from the prisoner.

Judge Bordwell then set the date of sentence at 10 o'clock Tuesday, when J. B. McNamara also will be sentenced.

When the McNamara brothers come before the court next Tuesday to learn of their punishment the Times dynamite case will have come to an end so far as they are concerned. All of the indictments against them will be dismissed, according to an agreement between the district attorney's office and the attorneys for the defense.

District Attorney Fredericks and Attorney Lecompte Davis are authority for this.

John J. McNamara did not actually place dyanmite under the Llewellyn works, but is so charged as an accessory.

Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, said:

"I have saved a human life out of the wreckage I hope. I do not believe that the judge will sentence him to death. His life is the best that I can expect. For six months I have carried a terrible burden. We have sought every possible loophole and have tried our best to grope our way out of the maze, but about two weeks ago I discovered from the county authorities the evidence which they had In addition to their evidence I had further facts which, if they had discovered, would have only added to the hopelessness of Jim's plight."

Deputy District Attorney Horton said, when asked about McManigal:

"He will have to take his medicine with the rest. He will not go free. Probably he will plead guilty to the indictment charging him with exploding dynamite at the Baker Iron works and will be sentenced for that."

District Attorney Fredericks said:

"I can't say at this time whether we will ask the court to deal leniently with the prisoners. But when a man comes forward and makes a confession that saves the state a large amount of money he is entitled to some consideration."

It developed that a number of the most prominent citizens of Los Angeles have been laboring for a week or more to bring the McNamara case to a close because of the bitter feeling engendered. That this had a decided influence on the attorneys for the defense is known.

If urgings of business interests avail the sentences will not be maximum, as the hope is expressed that the clearing of the mystery will bring a new era of relations between capital and labor leaders in the unions eliminating the radical element favoring violence.

HISTORY OF THE CRIME

Blowing Up of Building of the Los Angeles Times.

New York, Dec. 2.—The crime for which James B. McNamara and his brother, John J., who was secretary and treasurer of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' association, were arrested and placed on trial in Los Angeles was the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times newspaper and printing plant.

ATTORNEY C. S. DARROW.

At a few minutes after 1 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 1, 1910, while the Times' staff was getting out the day's paper, the building, situated at Broadway and First street, was wrecked by dynamite. Time clock bombs had been used, it was ascertained later.

The effect of the explosion was frightful. One whole wall of the building collapsed. Floors gave way and crashed to the cellar. Flames arose from the debris. Firemen and police took twenty-one bodies out of the wreckage. Some had been killed instantly by the explosion. Others, caught by the sweep of flames, were burned to death. A number of the dead were union men. Many of them were married and had children.

Later in the morning, a bomb was found in the home of General Harrison Gray Otis, proprietor of the Times and an uncompromising opponent of the closed shop. This bomb let go in the street just after detectives who had been examining it were frightened away by the rattle of its mechanism. Other bombs were found, cunningly contrived mechanisms, in which an alarm clock and a can of nitroglycerin were the chief components.

EFFECT ON LABOR UNIONS

Samuel Gompers Says He and Labor Have Been Imposed Upon.

New York, Dec. 2.—Samuel Gompers was on a train when reporters broke the news to him. Mr. Gompers, on reading the bulletin, gasped and then asked that he be allowed to digest the information. He said he was astounded at the news and had no intimation that the brothers would plead guilty until he heard that they had.

"I had the personal assurances from both John J. and JaJmes B. that they were absolutely innocent when I visited them in jail in Los Angeles in September," said Mr. Gompers. "My confidence has been imposed upon. I am shocked at the news."

"What effect will this termination have upon labor unions?" he was asked.

"Well, it will not do the labor unions any good," said Gompers. "The unions of this country have been imposed on. We have collected, at the last report that I know of, $190,000 for their defense.

"My attitude has always been the denunciation and the discouragement of that sort of thing," continued Mr. Gompers. "It has to be stamped out—it must be stamped out if the labor unions will endure. The labor movement is one of peace, not the destroying of poperty and lives."

BURNS SEES VINDICATION

Had Been Charged by Labor Leaders with "Framing Up" Case.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—In a statement discussing the McNamara brothers' plea of guilty in the famous Los Angeles case, Detective William J. Burns declared that the recent bribery disclosure was what precipitated the confession. He further said that he was certain that the evidence he had gathered was more than sufficient to convict and that he was at no time uncertain as to the outcome of the case.

He declared the confessions to be a vindication of himself, inasmuch as he had been charged by labor leaders with having made a "plant" of the whole dynamite case.

DEMOCRATS TO SUPPORT EASTERNER

About 75 of the active democrats of Ypsilanti and vicinity had a fish dinner at the Masonic Temple, Friday evening and formally opened the campaign for the year of 1911-1912. The meeting which followed was an enthusiastic one. Prof. N. A. Harvey of the Normal College faculty presided. The principle address of the evning was given by Judge Blake of Mt. Clemens who set forth the merits of the men the party are placing on the demoractic ticket, rather than taking up party lines. Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey was formally endorsed as the democratic nominee for president of the United States for the next term. Another speaker, S. W. Beakes of Ann Arbor, gave a pointed address on party issues which was heartily endorsed by the enthusiastic supporters.

MASONS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION OF LODGE OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of Excelsior Chapter, No. 25, R. A. M., was held at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. An interesting feature of the election was the retiring of the treasurer, George Shaefer, who has held the same office for 23 years. This is the longest term of office of any member with the exception of P. W. Carpenter who was elected to the treasureship of the Chapter in 1880 and with the exception of 4 years has served in that capacity for the past 21 years. The present officers are:

High Priest, B. W. Kief; King, H. M. Frain; Scribe, E. M. Simpson; Treasurer, L. M. James; Secretary, P. W. Carpenter; C. of H., George A. Cook, P. Soj., William C. Horner; R. A. C., A. L. COLORED LAD SUSPECTED OF TAKING RINGS FROM NORMAL BOOK STORE

On Wednesday afternoon two rings were stolen from J. G. Zwergle's store, both were signet rings, one of gold and the other of silver. Later in the afternoon, William Johnson, a young colored lad, appeared with one of the rings at a local jeweler's and asked how much it was worth. The jeweler suspecting that it might not belong to the lad, gave it to the chief of police. The second ring the boy took with him to the Opera House Wednesday evening and dropped on the floor and lost it. It was recovered later and put in the officer's hands. Johnson admitted taking the rings but no warrants have been issued as yet for his arrest.

SAID BOTH BOYS WOULD DIE

That Was Statement of Dr. McGregor Last August, Declares J. Sparling.

Bad Axe, Mich., Dec. 2.—The latest development in the Sparling poisoning case at Ubly is a statement made by John Sparling of Ubly, uncle of the dead. John Wesley Sparling, that Cyril Sparling, the last boy to die, told him his mother compelled him to take Dr. McGregor's medicine when he did not want to take it and was afraid to take it. He also said that Cyril came to him crying and asked what he should do.

"Roy is about all in and I will go too if something is not done," is what John claims Cyril said.

Roy is still living. John Sparling also said, and was corroborated by Jacob Sparling, another cousin, that Dr. McGregor said to them last August, when Cyril became sick, that both of the boys, Cyril and Roy, were going to die and nothing could prevent it. John says that he then asked the doctor what ailed the boys, getting the reply that he (McGregor) did not know, but both of them would die.

LARGE DECREASE IN IMMIGRATION

Records Show a Drop of Thirty-Eight Per Cent.

MAY BE CAUSE OF ENTHUSIASM

Figures Given by Herbert Francis Sherwood in Discussing the Ebb and Flow of Immigration Show Considerable Change.

New York, Dec. 2.—Herbert Francis Sherwood in discussing the ebb and flow of immigration in the Review of Reviews for December says little attention has been given to the fact that in the course of the year which is just closing a marked change occurred in the movement to this country.

"Between Jan. 1 and Sept. 30, 1911," he said, "450,670 persons landed on our shores from the third-class cabins of the trans-Atlantic liners. While some ardent restrictionist might assert that this total was large enough, yet it was less than two-thirds the number who came to us in the same class in the course of the corresponding period of last year.

"The exact falling off was 278,424, or 38.18 per cent. Perhaps a knowledge of the fact that the number of those who sailed eastward in the steerage in the course of nine months which closed on Sept. 30 was 300,040, or 65.55 per cent of the total of those who entered, and an increase over the number who went to Europe last year of 35.47 per cent, will cause our restrictionist friend to go to the length of throwing up his hat in his enthusiasm."

DOUBLY PROVEN

Ypsilanti Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Ypsilanti citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of lasting benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the vidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. Thomas Barnum, 23 Water St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "A heavy cold which settled on my kidneys affected hem and my back became so painful hat I could not stoop or lift. I neglected to treat the trouble and as a result, it became serious. When I found how bad my case really was, I began using medicine, but then it was too late and I got only temporary relief. It was difficult for me to sit down and just as hard to get up, owing to sharp twinges through my loins. The secretions from my kidneys were also unnatural. Finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store, and the first few doses benefited me. By the time I had finished the contents of one box, my pains and aches had all disappeared and I felt like a different person. I think that I am justified in recommending them." (Statement given in 1906).

Time is the Test.

Mrs. Barnum was interviewed on September 20, 1911, and she added to the above: "I cheerfully confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they made a permanent cure in my case. I have had no further need of a kidney medicine since 1906."

PENNSY FOOT BALL.. ENTHUSIASTS ARE ALARMED BY REPORTS

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 29.—Foot ball enthusiasts in this city are becoming alarmed over reports from the west that Michigan may drop Pennsylvania from its football schedule. The cries of rowdyism and dirty foot ball which were heard in the vicinity of Ann Arbor in 1908 after Schultz, Michigan's star back, had been injured in the Pennsylvania game are being echoed again this year as a result of the injury to Wells.

Should Michigan decide to terminate its relations with Pennsylvania it means that one more college is to follow the lead of Yale, Princeton and Harvard, which dropped the Franklin field warriors in recent years.

The outbreak of Mike Murphy, Pennsylvania's trainer, which followed the disastrous defeats of the early season, together with the threatened breach with Michigan, have contributed to make the 1911 season stormy for the University of Pennsylvania.

NERVES HELP NATURE

S. R. JANSHESKI, D. C., TELLS HOW MECHANICAL MEANS CAN BE UTILIZED INSTEAD OF MEDICINE TO GAIN HEALTH.

Studying the Spine to Locate the Cause of Disease

The health and vitality of any organ or tissue is dependent upon a normal nerve supply, it is for this reason that diseases are caused by interference with the nerves.

Even a slight derangement of the spinal column will put a pressure upon a nerve or a branch and cut off a portion of the nerve force that should go to the parts that are supplied by that branch.

Modern physicians realize that disease is not a thing but a condition: a state, a discord in nature. That there is a cause for this condition, and that this condition is often of a physical nature and one that may be removed by mechanical measures.

Chiropractic is the Science of adjusting the above mentioned derangement of the spinal column. If you are ailing it would be wise to have a careful examination that will locate the cause of the trouble and enable it to be removed.

Paralysis, deafness, loss of voice, catarrh, gall stones, rheumatism, appendicitis, neuralgia, neurasthenia, eye, ear, nose, throat, lung, stomach, liver, kidney, bladder, female troubles and numerous other ailments quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropractic (Ki-ro-prac-tic) adjustments properly given.

If you want to learn more about this wonderful science will be glad to mail my little booklet on the "Science of Kiropractic" free to any address on request. Consultation free. Adjustments one dollar each, or six for five dollars. Out of office calls are double rates. S. J. Jansheski, D. C., Chiropractor, Suite 1-2-3, Union Block, Cor. Congress and Washington Sts. Seven Months of Artificial Light In the Home

Sight is one of the most precious possessions of men, women and CHILDREN.

During seven months of the year, most of the close application of eyesight in your home is by artificial light.

Is the artificial light in your home good or bad?

Before the long evenings come when the family gathers near the LIGHT—look into this matter carefully.

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the best light in the home. It is economical and it is far more convenient than any other form of lighting.
